ACCOMAC COURT-HOUSE, VA.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1885.

According to our latest advices the contest for the seat in the United States Senate from Virginia was warm between the supporters of Hons. John S. Barbour and John W. Daniel, with the chances in favor of the latter. The contest is one however, without bitterness and whatever the result, will be accepted without a murmur by the great body of Virginians. Either of them will serve the Commonwealth with the ability and integrity worthy of her palmy days and will do much to lift our State out of "the slough of despond" into which a vile and degenerate son has plunged her. Each of them has been the bosom too often to receive the blows aimed at her, to be recent now to the trust which may be imposed on him and none distrusts either of them. Each for distinguished services to the State, has the confidence of all our people and has brought derogatory to the other, could be said by the supporters of either. But when a choice has to be made between two such worthy sons, we do no injustice to one when we hope for the success of him, who by reason of his peculiar abilities is so well fitted to occupy a seat in the United States Senate. For honesty of purpose and zeal in the service of his State, Mr. Barbour could have no superior. John Daniel would be the peer of Mr. Barbour in these respects and in the requirements of a public speaker, on occasions where it is of inestimable value to a State, Daniel is vastly his superior. But in common with the great mass of Virginians who love Barbour only a little less, than they do Daniel, if the former should be adjudged, because of greater services to the State in the past, entitled to the position in question, the will of the majority will meet with our hearty concurrence. Between the friends of Barbour and Daniel there could be no ungenerous rivalry or dissensions arise at the success of either.

question involving the safety of capital invested and the actual sustenance of many hundreds of people. Few people understand it. Still fewer there, are who do not claim to know all about it. From year to year it is a weight in all the political contests—and many a man has secured political honors by catering to false sentiment and dictating with its important interests. The time has come when State lines of property if the "Oyster Fund" must be explicitly and clearly settled, and laws governing dredging and tonging—and above all oyster farming in its true sense—must be passed of value to all concerned and on a basis of liberality to all parties and safety for increase to the bivalve, without bias in any way. We commend to our immediate legislators the propriety of thorough information on this subject—else heads and baskets may meet early. In this connection we shall soon publish a series of articles relating to the oyster farming which has developed the oyster interests of Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The Norfolk Virginian celebrated the twentieth anniversary of its birth on Wednesday. It began publication with Hon. A. M. Kelly and Capt. James Barron Hope as its editors. Its course has been steadily onward and upward and under the able management of M. Glennan, Esq., it has taken high rank among the journals of State. It has been a mighty factor in developing the material interests of Norfolk, and as a most worthy and powerful leader in the Democratic party has done much to save the State from ruin and degradation. Long may it live to do good—to support, maintain and develop its city by the sea and the State—and give continued profit and honor to its owner and editor.

We have urged Virginians again and again not to pay their taxes in coupons, but to pay dollar for dollar what they owe to the State, and we feel that we cannot too urgently impress this duty on the minds of our people. Every man who uses these depreciated coupons aids and abets those who are trying to force upon public attention an issue that has been happily removed from politics. Is the saving of a few dollars to be weighed against the danger of again imperiling good and honest government? This is the question to be considered carefully and fairly by every patriotic citizen.—State.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

A number of the citizens of Santa Fe, N. M., have sent General Fitz Lee a beautiful little silver sabre in token of their appreciation of the "late splendid Democratic victory in Virginia."

Under a decree of the court appointing a receiver for the Richmond Wharf and ordering its sale for the benefit of its creditors, that paper was put up at auction last Tuesday. The highest bid made for the entire property was $4,000. The bid was not accepted, but it will be reported to the court for action.

By order of Governor Cameron, minute guns were fired by a detachment of the Howitzers to day during the obsequies.

Flags were at half mast on the Capitol, on all public and many private buildings, and on the shipping.

The postoffice closed from 12 to 5 o'clock, and other exhibitions of regret were paid all over the city.—State Dec. 1.

Henry Mason, colored, who murdered Robert Hammersley a young farmer, in Campbell county, Va., Friday night, November 20, was taken from jail at Rostburg, the county seat, at an early hour Tuesday morning by a party of lynchers and hanged, after which his body was riddled with bullets.

Winchester News: Ex Gov. F. W. M. Holliday arrived home from his extended European tour Wednesday and was welcomed by many friends and well-wishers. The Governor, we are glad to say, is looking well after his wandering among the Danes and bearded Russians. We welcome him again to his old home.

A warrant was sworn out yesterday before United States Commissioner Pleasant for the arrest of J. R. Jones, colored, member elect to the House from Mecklenburg county, charging him with having stolen a registered letter from the Boydton Postoffice in July, 1885, while postmaster at that place. The warrant is in the hands of a United States Deputy Marshal for execution.—Dispatch, Dec. 1.

The Oyster Question.—The convention of Virginia oystermen met in the court house at Hampton yesterday. The object of the convention was to agree upon and recommend such legislation as will best subserve the general interest of the oyster industry. Delegates were present from the counties of Elizabeth City, Middlesex, Accomac, Lancaster and Northumberland. As the call for the convention appeared not to have been as widely advertised as it might have been, and as only five counties of twenty which were interested in the oyster business were represented, on motion of Robert McCandlish, of Middlesex, the convention adjourned to meet in the court room at Hampton on Monday.

secretary of the convention was instructed to send a copy of the resolution to every paper in Tidewater Virginia with the request that they publish the same. It is hoped and expected that every interest will be represented in the convention of the 16th, the tonger, dredger, planter, packer and canner.

In many instances the opium-eating habit has been contracted through the use of narcotics, prescribed by physicians during sickness. Many remedies which claim to cure conglutinate morphia or opium, and it can easily be understood what a bad effect they must have on children. The new remedy, Red Star Cough Cure, is entirely free from these dangerous ingredients, and the mass of testimony which has already been collected in its favor from all parts of the country is proof of its wonderful purity and efficacy.

The Life-Saving Station.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The annual report of Mr. S. I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life-saving service, shows that at the close of the last fiscal year the establishment embraced 263 stations, 157 being on the Atlantic, 38 on the lakes, 7 on the Pacific and one at the falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. The assistance rendered in saving vessels and cargoes during the year was larger than in any previous year except the last preceding, 366 vessels having been worked off when stranded, regain ed when damaged, piloted out of dangerous places and similarly assisted by the station crews. From the introduction of the present system, in 1871, to June 30, 1885, the number of persons saved was 25,236; number lost 457, including 183 lost at the wreck of the Huron and Metropolis; value of property saved $36,277,929; property lost $15,487,765.

Chesapeake Bay Not a Part of the High Seas.

The Court of Alabama Claims has rendered a very important decision, which may become the subject of international discussion. It was in the matter of the claim for the destruction in 1882 in the Chesapeake Bay of the New York Ship Allegan. The point involved was, whether, for international purposes, the Chesapeake Bay was part of the "high seas" or part of the interior waters of the United States? This point has never before been decided. Judge Draper, of New York, who delivered the opinion, held that the Chesapeake Bay must be held to be wholly within the territorial jurisdiction and authority of the United States, and no part of the "high seas," within the meaning of the terms as used in section 5 of the Act of June 5, 1883.

The Value of Railroad Property in Virginia.

The Auditor or public Accounts has prepared a statement showing the value and the tax upon railroad property in this State. From it the following is taken: Value of roadway and track, $29,033,375; value of depots, grounds and lots, station buildings and fixtures and machine shops, $1,386,216.63; real estate not included in other classes, $814,830.20; rolling stock, including passenger, freight, cattle, baggage, mail, express, sleeping, palace and all cars belonging to the companies, boats, machinery, etc., $3,753,733.82; stores, $262,680.21; telegraph lines, $34,802.60; miscellaneous property, $670,266.09; total value of all property, $35,955,924.90. Tax on real and personal property at thirty cents on the $100 for the support of the Government, $107,867.77; tax on real and personal property at ten cents on the $100 for the support of the public free schools, $35,955.92. Net income, $311,946.55; tax on net income at 1 per cent, $3,119.46. Total tax, $146,987.23.

The President has appointed Albert A. Wilson, of Washington, to be United States marshal for the District of Columbia, to succeed Col. Clayton McMichael. Mr. Wilson is President of the Firemen's Insurance Company, vice president of the Metropolitan Railway Company of Washington, and a director of the National Bank of the Republic. The President being convinced that the people of the District of Columbia are entitled to the entire time and attention of the legitimate duties pertaining to the marshalship he has determined to relieve the office of the unofficial and social functions that have in late years attended it, and Mr. Wilson will not be called upon to perform such service.

Virginia Legislature.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 1.—The Democratic members of both Houses of the General Assembly held caucuses to night for the purpose of selecting officers. Each body re-nominated all the old officers, as follows: Senate—President pro tem, John L. Hart, of Pittsylvania; clerk, J. D. Pendleton, of Orange; sergeant-at-arms, J. T. Weaver, of Giles; doorkeeper, R. B. Wilson, of Roanoke. House of Delegates—Speaker, Judge Chas. E. Stuart, of Alexandria; clerk, John Bell Bigger, of Spotsylvania; sergeant at arms, J. C. Hill, of Albemarle; doorkeeper, A. A. Sullivan, of Montgomery, and A. B. Cottrell, of Henrico. All the Democratic Senators and 63 out of 70 Democratic Delegates were present.

The friends of the leading aspirants for the United States senatorship made no fight on the speakership of the House or any of the other officers of the two branches of the Assembly. Mr. C. E. Stuart, who was nominated for the speakership of the House, was opposed by Mr. H. R. Pollard, of King and Queen, whom he defeated by a majority of 7. Mr. Stuart is pronounced in his friendship for Mr. Barbour's candidacy for the Senate.

Lieut. Gov. John F. Lewis is here, and will call the Senate to order to-morrow.

Gov. Cameron has not yet completed his message, but expects to do so in time to send it to the Legislature soon after the organization of the two houses to-morrow.

Dec. 2. The Assembly of Virginia met in regular biennial session to day at noon. Both houses were organized by the election of officers nominated last night by the Democratic caucuses. A joint committee was appointed to wait on the Governor and inform him of the organization of both bodies. A joint resolution was adopted appointing a committee to prepare appropriate resolutions on the death of Hon. Thos. A. Hendricks, late Vice President of the United States. The committee to wait on the Governor reported that his excellency was not prepared to communicate to the Legislature to-day, but will do so at 1 o'clock to-morrow. The House adopted a resolution that the vote cast in the last election for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor be counted to-morrow.
